GUILD NEWS

Next Guild Meeting

The Guild will not hold a meeting in November due to Thanksgiving and Pottery Market or in December due to Christmas. The next meeting will be in January, with the location, date, and time to be determined.

2016 Empty Bowls Wrap-up

The Guild raised $15,715 at the 2016 Empty Bowls Troy event, which was distributed to 15 food assistance groups in Troy.

Thank you to all the potters, restaurants, suppliers, sponsors, volunteers, and Italian Community Center for another successful event!

There are approximately 500 bowls left over from the event. Next year's event will be October 1, 2017, so mark your calendars!

Art Pottery and Glass in America - 1880s-1920s

September 25, 2015 – April 24, 2017
Washington, DC

American potters and glassmakers were at the forefront of producing decorative wares that contributed to the growing market for Arts and Crafts between 1880 and 1910. This display highlights the design movement that embraced the ideals of superior craftsmanship, naturalistic ornamentation and living with beauty in the home. Among the manufacturers featured are the Steuben Glass Works, Rookwood Pottery, Tiffany Glass and Decorating Company, Biloxi Art Pottery, Paul Revere Pottery, and Matt Morgan Art Pottery.

Portland, Oregon
March 22 to 25, 2017

A Century of Collecting: 100 Years of Ceramics at the Everson

Opening November 20, 2016
Syracuse, NY

The first exhibition in the Everson's new ceramics gallery, A Century of Collecting celebrates the 100th anniversary of the Museum's first purchase of ceramics for the permanent collection in 1916. Over the past 100 years, the Everson has amassed a premier collection of more than 5000 ceramic pieces, dating from ancient times to the present day. This exhibition presents a survey of works made by key figures in modern and contemporary studio ceramics.
